

For a bio-ethical research project Academics at the University of Exeter are looking for participants to help with a project assessing the attitudes of various religious/non-religious groups towards the availability and use of reproductive technologies. There are a number of ethical issues surrounding these technologies. It is thus of imperative importance that the nation's attitudes to such issues be investigated. In this way the views of society as a whole may be recognised and taken into account in the creation of new legislation. A short, anonymous questionnaire and /or further information can be obtained from Jyoti Evans at Jpse201@ex.ac.uk