Subject: Our new website
From: PLO Mission à€ Washington, DC

Our new website is still in its experimental phase and we are improving it constantly.
Those who visit it will notice:

- That we have expanded the links.
- We have restructured the "multi media" section on which we will soon add some interesting documentaries.
- You now listen to Palestinian classical music while visiting our site.

A friend asked us why we have Israeli right wing and settler websites. The answer is that we wish our website to be as comprehensive as possible, that adding a website, any website, does not mean an endorsement, and that we mainly rely on the intelligence and the decency of the viewers.

Any suggestion from you to improve the quality of our website will be most welcomed.
