

ij@uk2

From: "The Globalist This Week" <theglobalist@theglobalist.com>
To: <aljalili@uk2.net>
Sent: 15 September 2006 12:36
Subject: This Week: Darwin and Illegal Immigration -- Risk Intelligence and the Iraq War -- 9/11 Scorecard

theGlobalist
 Dedicated to global understanding

The daily online magazine on the global economy, politics and

Darwin and Illegal Immigration

This week, in wake of the fifth anniversary of September 11, David Apgar — the author of "Risk Intelligence" — shows how the Bush Administration could have better predicted the aftermath of the war in Iraq. Also, Joseph Chamie asks what it will take for the global community to commit to solving the world's illegal immigration problem.

Best regards,

Stephan Richter
 Publisher and Editor-in-Chief

Also on The Globalist this week:

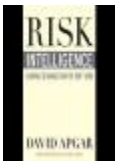

Friday

Is the EU Ready to Take Casualties?

As the EU builds up its capacity for global interventions, how will its citizens respond to potential setbacks?

By Richard Gowan

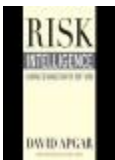

Thursday

Risk Intelligence and the Iraq War: Part Two

How do you tell whether your adversary's experience is more relevant than yours?

By David Apgar

Wednesday

Risk Intelligence and the Iraq War: Part One

Could the Bush Administration have done better in anticipating the violent aftermath of the invasion of Iraq?

By David Apgar

Tuesday

Darwinian Migration

What will it take for the global community to commit to solving the illegal immigration problem worldwide?

By Joseph Chamie

Monday

New Globalist Poll

Is the EU ready and willing to take a more active international role militarily?

- Yes, as is proven by the EU's current role in Lebanon.
- Yes, but the EU will shy away from most high-profile engagements.
- No, the EU is not willing to take large-scale military casualties.
- No, the EU is too afraid of casualties to its civilian personnel.

Click here to add your perspective.

Last Week's Poll

Why has the U.S. public

The Scorecard: Five Years Later

How has the Bush Administration's response to 9/11 affected the standing of the United States in the Middle East?

By Alon Ben-Meir

remained skeptical of global warming despite scientific evidence to the contrary?

Which answer received over 55% of the vote?

Please click on the hyperlink to unsubscribe from our weekly email update.

Copyright © 2000-2006 | The Globalist | McPherson Square, 927 15th Street, NW, Washington, D.C. 20005 | 202.898.4760